Senator Berry Indulges in a Few Remarks Regarding the Force Bill-The Senate to Insist on the Grand Army Eucompment Appropriation-A Proposed Highway Commission-The Weath er Crop Bulletin for the Week.

Washington, July 5.—Everybody in the house this morning was discussing the prospects of the silver bill. It is clear that Representative Culberson, schairman of the judiciary committee, has discomfited his iree silver friends by his statement that the senate bill would destroy the legal tender character of the treasury notes issued under the terms of the act of 1890, which the bill repeals. On the other 1890, which the bill repeals. On the other hand, a large number, probably a majority of the Democrats and no inconsiderable number of the Republicans take issue with Chairman Culberson's view and hold that the bill does not in any way affect the legal tender character of the treasury notes. One Democratic senator says that congress can do nothing to impair a contract alcan do nothing to impair a contract already existing, and that the notes show on their face that they are contracts pure and simple. A large number of Republicans take the position that the act could not be made retroactive.

These opinions do not satisfy Mr. Bland, who is evidently under the suspicion that his political enemies are digging a pit for his feet, by facilitating the passage of a bill which the president might veto without committing himself upon the merits of the silver question. Mr. Bland, the chairman, has called a special meeting of the committee on coinage, weights and the committee on coinage, weights and measures for tomorrow at 10 o'clock, and

The address of the day was made by Captain W. T. Burgess of Wichita, and was satisfactory to every one. It was a review of our country's progress from the beginning. Captain Burgess paid a glowing tribute to the patriots and statesmen of the revolution. He showed the development of our material resources and the growth of our political and civil institutions. His tribute to our educational institutions was great, and warmed the hearts of his audience with pride and cuthusiasm. He showed the growth and resources of Kansas with actual figures, and drew a great picture of our future. The drew a great picture of our future.
